ARGUE TO DISSOLVE STEEL CO.

Government Asks for Receiver for the World's Greatest Corporation

AND DIVISION OF INTEREST OF MERGED COMPANIES

MR. CARNEGIE IS SCORED

In Pleadings As Being a Prime Factor in the Illegal Combination, Alleged to Violate the Sherman Anti-Trust Law—Brief Covers 900 Pages.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Philadelphia, Oct. 20.—After testimony had been taken in different sections of the country during the greater part of the last three years, the government's suit to dissolve the United States Steel Corporation on the ground that its creation was a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, was on the docket of the United States district court here today for final argument. The suit was filed in the United States court for the district of New Jersey on October 26, 1911, and was transferred to Philadelphia for argument before judges of the third judicial circuit.

The government asks that the greatest corporation in the world in point of capitalization, be broken up into the numerous companies that had been merged illegally, the government alleges, into the gigantic concern. The court is asked to divide under wholly independent ownerships the following companies controlled by the steel corporation: The Carnegie Steel company of New Jersey; National Steel company, American Steel Hoop company, American Sheet and Tin-Plate company, American Tin-Plate company, American Sheet Steel company, Federal Steel company, American Tube company, Shelby Steel Tube company and the American Bridge company.

The court is also asked to make independent the Duluth and Iron Range Railroad company, the Duluth, Missabe and Northern Railroad company, the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company, Union Steel company, and the Clairton Steel company, and that the ore and coal properties of the United States Steel Corporation, other than those of the Tennessee company, be divided among the Clairton, Union, and new concerns to be created, in proportion to their capacity for the production of steel.

The court is also asked to decree that "Andrew Carnegie was a party to the unlawful combination of properties through the United States Steel Corporation, and took the bonds of the corporation with all the infinitesimally attaching to such participation."

Finally the court is asked to appoint a receiver to take over all of the properties owned or controlled by the United States Steel Corporation and its subsidiaries for the purpose of making effective the decree of the court; that the receiver receive from the syndicate subscribers and promoters and others who are parties to the alleged unlawful combination, the differences between the par value of the stock received by them and the cash value of the properties or the services given therefore, so that restitution, so far as possible, may be made to the other stockholders.

The testimony taken in the case is contained in fifty-five printed volumes, each an inch thick. The government's brief, a formidable paper of more than 900 printed pages, which has been filed, reviews the evidence in the case and argues the law points involved. Much of the space of the brief is given up to the steel corporation's acquisition of the majority of the stock of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company. The government alleges that E. H. Gary and Henry C. Frick, directors in the big corporation who

Taft Pledges Co-operation With Wilson

AND DEEPEST PERSONAL CONFIDENCE OF AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION

In Introducing the President to the Members at the Annual Convention.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Oct. 20.—With an address of welcome by President Wilson, with former President Taft in the chair and the entire supreme court sitting as guests of honor, the American Bar Association today began its annual session here. In his introduction of President Wilson, Mr. Taft pledged the association's earnest co-operation and its deepest personal confidence in the president's ability and purpose to guide the ship of state through the European crisis. Mr. Taft declares the American people were back of the president in his handling of the international situation and that he had the confidence of the nation.

President Wilson's response was that his strength rested in the confidence of the people. He pleaded for the "humanizing of the law" in this time of international crisis, not only as respect to international law, but as to municipal law. His reference to himself as a lawyer, who had reformed brought forth tumultuous applause. He said the world was now "stirred to its depths," but that the best course for a nation to pursue was the disinterested part. He added that the unsettled world conditions made a good time for freeing the law from the dry consideration of cold precedents, and injecting into it more of the viewpoints of justice for the ordinary man.

HEALTH OFFICER CLOSES ROOMS IN PAROCHIAL SCHOOL

As a precaution against the possible spread of diphtheria, Health Officer Knauss Monday ordered three rooms of the parochial school closed. The action was taken when the investigation of the health department revealed the fact that several children taken ill while in school, developed cases of diphtheria. The rooms were fumigated and every effort is being made to prevent an epidemic of the disease. Fortunately but one pupil in the public schools has yet developed the trouble.

Harmon Pleads Democratic State Success Will Indorse Policies of President Wilson

Cincinnati, Oct. 20.—Remarkable in its sentiment and phraseology was the eloquent address of Judson Harmon, ex-governor of Ohio, in which he made an appeal for the success of Ohio Democracy this fall upon the very broad lines of an upholding of the efforts of President Woodrow Wilson. In the accomplishment of promised reforms in the national administration, which were in the process of trial, A defeat of Governor Cox, Timothy Hogan, and the congressional delegation seeking reelection as Democrats would be interpreted as a vote of censure of the President and his administration. Hearing a message from the President of the United States, and making an appeal to sustain the Wilson Administration by their votes on November 3, Postmaster General Albert S. Burton addressed a large audience in Music Hall last night. His listeners were attentive and enthusiastic. General Harmon is an orator of the old school, earnest, loud and at times vehement. Applause was frequent, but the clamor of approval came with his eloquent eulogy of Governor James M. Cox, who was characterized as his personal friend and as a brave, fearless, conscientious and constructive. Former Governor Harmon acted as chairman and he also received a vote of welcome. Governor Harmon said: "I should be glad to accept our guest in reply because he is a citizen of an old state who has distinguished himself as long serving congressman, and I am doubly glad to present him, because he comes to represent at the first President we have had in many years who stays on the job to which the people called him and has made good."

Quarter of Belgian Army Has Deserted; Italians Have Left the French Forces; Berlin Conveys This Startling News

(Associated Press Telegram)
Berlin, Oct. 20.—(By wireless to Sayville.)—Press information given out today in German official circles says: "Although the news of the fate of the German torpedo boats S-115, S-117, S-118 and S-119, which were sunk by British warships off the Dutch coast, has aroused feelings of deep regret throughout Germany, the loss of the ships will rather increase than decrease the pride of the Germans for their navy. The crews were old and of little value."

DELEGATES NOW SEEM TO BE GREAT HITCH IN CARRANZA-VILLA CONFERENCE

Sessions Have Been Stormy According to Reliable Reports—Situation Complicated.

(Associated Press Telegram)
El Paso, Tex., Oct. 20.—Advices received here today indicate that the chief hitch in the Carranza-Villa conference at Aguas Calientes had been the attitude of the Zapata delegates.

This, it was asserted, occasioned the adjournment of the conference which is ordered to reopen today. The leader of southern Mexico, was declared as having insisted on matters to which Carranza and Villa were not prepared to accede. Carranza's delegates were reported to have insisted on the adoption of a plan of federalism, according to which Carranza would be president of Mexico and Villa would be president of the state of Coahuila. Carranza's delegates were reported to have insisted on the adoption of a plan of federalism, according to which Carranza would be president of Mexico and Villa would be president of the state of Coahuila.

half of the Belgian army has been interned in Holland. "A quarter of the whole army has deserted," they declare, and the last quarter is so disorganized that they are only a burden to the British and French army. "Nearly all the Italian volunteers in the French army have returned to Italy during the past few days. French recruiting officers are spending considerable sums of money to bring about the enlistment of the fisher population residing on the French and Belgian coasts. These men are to be organized as sharpshooters."

Battle Tide Is Not Flowing For Germans

Allies' Position, as Far as Can Be Learned, Is Such That the Invaders' Hold On Ostend Is Becoming Precarious and City May Be Cut Off From The Rest of the German Army

EACH ARMY IN EAST NOW CLAIMS THE OFFENSIVE

Only Negative News, However, is Known of This Eastern Conflict Between Millions of Men—Canada Will Continue to Send Batches of 10,000 Men Each, to England As Long As the War Lasts—Servians Are Concentrating Their Strength to Capture Capital of Bosnia.

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Oct. 20.—Nothing has been received up to the present time from the German intelligence department to counteract the British impression conveyed in the news both official and unofficial, published here that the tide of battle both in the eastern and in the western theaters is not for the moment flowing in favor of Germany.

The picture, however, continues so blurred that it is impossible, except for the commanders on the spot, accurately to gauge the effect of the momentary changes or the ultimate result, so it may well be that the German general staff when it considers the time right, will present a scene of an entirely different aspect. The Belgian minister at London has no confirmation of the story that the allies have re-occupied Ostend, but in any case the Germans hold on to that seaport and must have become somewhat precarious if the allies still retain the positions assigned to them in the latest French official statement.

Should the allies push their wedge beyond Roulers, where its point rested yesterday, Ostend would be in considerable danger of being cut off from the rest of the German army.

The Germans are making great efforts to break through their opponents lines in the neighborhood of Arras, where General Joffre's statement points out that fighting has proceeded for ten days without a respite.

News of the conflict of millions of men along the Vistula river, in Russian Poland, is mostly of a negative character. Each of the vast armies claim that its opponent is on the defensive and neither pretends to have secured anything like a permanent advantage. The Austrians for the moment are claiming far more success against the Russians than are the Germans, but even admitting the correctness of their claims, their forces which are alleged to be driving the Muscovites out of the Carpathian mountains still are at least 70 miles south of both Lemberg and Przemyel.

Further to the southward the Servians are utilizing all their available strength in a general assault on Sarajevo. They especially are desirous of being in possession of the Bosnian capital before the court has given its decision in the trial of Gavrio Princip, whose assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand, the Austrian heir-apparent, was the direct excuse for the war of the nations.

That significance attaches to the announcement that Canada will keep sending batches of volunteer reinforcements, each numbering 10,000 men, so long as the war lasts, is fully appreciated in comments heard both in England and on the continent.

FAST MILES ARE MADE IN TRIALS FOR AUTO RACES

With the track in splendid condition, several drivers of cars entered in the automobile races at Moundbuilders' park Wednesday afternoon, have been trying out the track and as a result some fast miles were reported. The races have twice been postponed but there is every indication that the starting gun will be fired Wednesday without fail. The last Knox entry with a reputed speed on the Indianapolis track of 108 miles an hour, will be watched with interest. Monday, Gray in his truck speeded his car around the track, creating the fence at the turns, indicating that there will be some racing work to be seen on the track. E. Lake with his Mt. Vernon entry arrived late today.

Concentrated Fire From Several French Batteries Silenced Heavy Artillery

(Associated Press Telegram)
On the Battle Front via Paris, Oct. 20.—On the eastern wing along the Meuse, fighting is incessant and in this the French artillery is playing a most important part. The concentrated fire of several French batteries at St. Mihiel Monday destroyed a complete battery of heavy German artillery which had been causing great annoyance.

The British appear to be ready to seize the slightest opportunity to play some game when off actual duty. They are always cleanly shaven and love to plunge into a creek or river. Behind their trench boxes are many kneeling trenches captured from the German commissariat, and now turned into latrines. The Indian troops maintain a calm except when in action. Then they utter wild cries in their eastern language as they enter the fight. The Moroccan auxiliaries known as "choumris," maintain all their African habits. They apparently are always ready to rest anywhere that they may find themselves, but sleep with the bridge over their arm and spring into action at the slightest movement or noise.

IS GOOD CAUSE FOR NOT PAYING FARE TO CONDUCTOR WHEN HE PASSES.

Supreme Court So Decides And Also Gives Alimony Under Peculiar Conditions.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Oct. 29.—By overruling a motion to appeal a case from Portage county, the Supreme court today refused to pass on the question of whether a woman is entitled to alimony after she marries a man, under the claim she is virtuous, and later is divorced on the ground that she had not been such. By inference the court sustains the Portage county courts which awarded alimony to the divorced wife.

George Eagleston, a Portage county farmer, with a number of grown children went to Cleveland to find a purchaser for his farm. A real estate man introduced him to a woman, a prospective purchaser, and instead of selling his farm to her he married her. Later he was granted a divorce on the ground that she had been proprietress of a disorderly house in Cleveland. Now he will have to pay her $1000 alimony.

Searles Bros., of Toledo, truck producers, will have to pay $5000 for the construction of a greenhouse more than eight years ago, to Augusta Cowdick, widow of Arthur Cowdick, contractor who built the house, the court decided today. The Searles Bros. refused payment at the time on the ground that completion of the greenhouse had been delayed until so late in the winter that they had lost a large part of their crop.

The court held that a severe attack of indigestion and headache of a train may be good cause for a man's not paying his fare when the conductor passes. It affirmed the circuit court in remanding to the Belmont county Common Pleas court trial of a damage case against the Wheeling Traction company by Mrs. W. Shepherd, widow of Elmer W. Shepherd, of Bellville, who was ejected from a train car while suffering from such a headache struck by a steam engine and killed.

NEGRO MAID

been determined. It was said today her appearance on the stand would depend it was stated, upon the strength of the case her counsel considered the district attorney had woven around her.

In opening for the prosecution Lewis J. Smith, the district attorney sketched in some detail Mrs. Bailey's actions on the day of the murder, the arrangement of the Carman house in general and the physician's office particularly. He told the jury how the wire screen at the window to the office was propped up, the window pane broken, a revolver thrust through the opening and a bullet fired into the heart of Mrs. Bailey. Although she died within a minute, he said, her body lay on the floor for some time before the police were notified.

"We shall show," continued the district attorney, "that the shot that killed Mrs. Bailey, was fired by the defendant. We shall show that she passed through the kitchen out through the side yard a moment before the shooting and that she returned through the kitchen immediately after it. We shall show further that the motive was jealousy and suspicion of her husband."

"To prove this we shall call a woman whom Mrs. Carman stamped on one occasion when she saw her husband give her money while the pair was in the physician's office. Also we will show why and how she secured a telephone instrument, or mechanical eavesdropper so that she could spy upon her husband of whom she was intensely jealous."

"We will further show how this defendant arranged to have the eavesdropper installed in her husband's office, how she had the transmitter placed behind an instrument case in the doctor's office and the receiver in the drawer of a desk in her bedroom."

The district attorney also told how the defendant tore out the instrument

ARGUE

sent to President Roosevelt to see whether the government would object to the corporation taking over the Tennessee company, represented by the President the amount of stock held by Moore and Schley, the New York firm, which the corporation sought to purchase during the year of 1907. The government's brief declared the real object of the steel corporation in purchasing the Tennessee stock was not to help Moore Schley out of financial difficulties but to obtain absolute control of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company property.

BRIEF FOR COMPANY.
The brief filed by the United States Steel corporation reviewing the law which the government applies to the case, and also reviewing the evidence, declares that what competition existed among the companies acquired by the big corporation, was greatly limited. It is declared that the steel corporation's proportion of the country's total production of finished products in 1901, when the corporation was formed was only 70.1 per cent; that it has since been reduced to 57.7 per cent of the country's production for all the markets of the world and to 10.2 per cent of the total production for the domestic market.

In denying that the steel corporation suppressed competition, the brief states that the organization of the company was but a natural and normal development from existing trade and manufacturing conditions.

The brief calls attention to the corporation's successful efforts in building up a large foreign trade for American iron and steel products, and states that the records do not show a single instance of freight rebates having been asked or given by the steel corporation or its subsidiaries since the organization of the big concern.

With respect to its employees, the brief says the corporation has reduced wages only once during the whole period of its existence; that this was occasioned by a severe business depression in 1904 and that since its formation the wages of the corporation's employees have been increased on the average of 28.5 per cent.

The price of its products, the brief continues, is shown to have decreased on the average of about $8 a ton since it was formed.

It was also shown that the price of steel products as compared with other commodities has diminished 16.5 per cent, since the corporation was formed, and since 1903 has been less in the United States than in either England or Germany.

The brief denies the allegations that the steel corporation took advantage of the 1907 panic to acquire control of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company.

"Evidence shows," the brief sums up, "that no artificial barriers exist in the steel trade; that for nearly 10 years competitive conditions have been ideal, and that under these conditions new competitors have grown up and expanded, products have improved, prices have declined and trade has flourished as never before."

ISLANDS TAKEN By Jap Fleet Without Loss

ANOTHER DEVELOPMENT OF THE PLAN OF ENGLAND AND JAPAN IN PACIFIC

Which is to Seize All German Naval Stations as Tactical Necessities.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Tokio, Oct. 20.—The navy department has announced the occupation for military purposes of strategically important islands in the Marianne or Ladrone, Marshall, East Caroline, and West Caroline archipelagos.

Jaluit, in the Marshall group, was occupied October 14 by a division of the Japanese fleet. Jaluit is explained, was the base of the enemy's maritime operation in the Marianne, Marshall, and Eastern and Western Caroline archipelago. No damage was suffered by the Japanese fleet.

Yap has a large military importance because it is a relay station of the German cable lines in the far east, one line running north to Shanghai and the other southeast to Borneo and Java. A few months ago a powerful German wireless station was opened on the island.

Previous announcement has been made of the occupation by Japan of islands in the Marshall and Caroline groups. The occupation of an island in the Marianne or Ladrone group has not heretofore been reported. The Marianne Islands lie directly east of Luzon and about 1700 miles from Manila. In this group is the island of Guam, which was acquired by the United States in 1898. Here the United States maintains a cable station on the line between Manila, Honolulu and San Francisco. The Marianne group is about 500 miles south of the Bonin Islands, which belong to Japan.

The total area of the Marianas is about 120 square miles. Most of them are densely wooded and all are described as very fertile. The climate is temperate and salubrious. With the exception of Guam, all the islands in the group were sold by Spain to Germany in 1899 and form part of a government district of Germany, New Guinea. A despatch from Washington, October 7, quoted the Japanese embassy as saying that the seizure of the island of Yap was only one development of the general plan acted upon by the British and the Japanese to seize all of the German naval stations in the Pacific. The war regarded as necessary, it was explained, to terminate the activities of the German cruisers which have inflicted serious injury upon British commerce.

Newark Tax Rate.

Newark's property valuation has been increased the past year by the Cox-appointed assessors, but the rate of taxation has not been decreased. Newark people will pay more money for taxes this year than last. That is Cox government—Newark American-Tribune, Oct. 19th.

By reason of the increased tax duplicate, the state levy was reduced by the state legislature .511 mills, while the county levy was reduced .399 mills and in 6 of the 78 taxing districts of Licking county the taxpayers will this year enjoy a reduced tax rate. While the tax rate in Newark city remains the same as it was last year what would the rate have been if the state and county levies had not been reduced? Everybody knows that the Newark city council and the Newark Board of Education are controlled by the Republicans. The city officials demanded an increased appropriation for the coming year and the budget commission of which Mayor Higbee and Wm. C. Christian, president of the school board were the majority members, insisted upon a levy sufficient to meet the requirements of the city government. If it had not been for the Warnes law, it had not been for the increased duplicate in the city of Newark and county of Licking, due to the discovery of much hidden property that has never heretofore been on the tax duplicate, the tax rate in the city of Newark would necessarily have been increased instead of being left where it was last year. In other words if it had not been for the Warnes tax law, which put over two millions of dollars worth of hidden property on the duplicate, the Newark tax rate would have been 14 mills instead of 13 mills this year. The Warnes law has made the tax dodgers "come across" and it has saved Newark taxpayers an increased tax rate while at the same time it has saved money to the taxpayers in 68 of the 78 tax paying districts of Licking county. The American-Tribune is invited to print this statement and deny the facts stated therein if it can.

If the people of Licking county have a wish that responsibility and good business conditions should prevail in the sheriff's office, they will vote for that highly competent man, Leroy Patton.

Is Baseball Honest?

Some people say that professional baseball is crooked. They tolerate regard the howling grandstand as childish. Why get so hot over what is largely stage play and a frame-up?

The remarkable outcome of the world's series contest this year must suggest a different point of view even to these superior skeptics. It is usually said that this series is purposely prolonged by the managers, to swell the gate receipts. Yet the Boston 'Braves' took four straight, though tens of thousands of dollars could have been had by letting the 'Athletics' take a game or two.

There are few things in the world that absorb money so fast as a losing ball team, unless it be an unprofitable daily newspaper. Any manager can increase his receipts 100 to 200 per cent. by putting the team on a winning basis. True blue sports urge that the team be supported winning or losing. Human nature does not run in that groove. It may say it goes to the game to watch science in an impersonal way. But most men are not interested in strategy and skill unless it is displayed by the home team. A losing ball team is never a money maker.

Under these circumstances, a manager who "throws" a game against his own team is taking steps to cut his gate receipts in half. No sum available by crooked work could possibly make up for the losses that result from losing games.

Similarly with the player. Crooked work is under the white light of the thousand eyes, and a man's salary rises and falls with the success or failure of his team.

No doubt there is crooked work in baseball, just as there is fool work in any kind of a business. But there is no calling where crookedness operates so instantly against the man who perpetrates it. It is burning his own money.

Good Times Coming.

John H. Patterson, the man who has made Dayton famous, declares that good times are coming, favorable reports having been received from all sections. In the N. C. R. Bulletin dated Oct. 19, Mr. Patterson says:

"A hundred million people in this country must live.

"There are one hundred and fifty billions of dollars of wealth in this country.

"All our money is as good as gold. It will not lie idle. Idle money earns nothing.

"The demand for money will bring it from idleness into the channels of trade.

"Our crops are unusual; our exports are increasing; new markets are being opened.

"New industries are being created, and home consumption of domestic goods is increasing.

"These facts give us confidence and courage to go ahead."

Farmer Haymaker—Waal, he's doin' it in the most substantial manner possible—he's turnin' it over with a plow, by heck.—Florida Times-Union.

Always Apprehensive.

"My wife gets nothing but apprehension out of life."

"How so?"

"She's afraid of cows in the country and automobiles in town."

—Kansas City Journal.

Not another Governor of any state in this Union so distinctly and forcefully renews the progressive and humanitarian principles of Woodrow Wilson as does James M. Cox, Governor of Ohio.

The Democratic party has kept the faith. Platform pledges have been redeemed.

FOR CHIEF JUSTICE SUPREME COURT

CHIEF JUSTICE HUGH L. NICHOLS. (Remember the Name.)

Chief Justice Nichols has served efficiently and has served well in his first term in the supreme court of Ohio. Under his direction the supreme court has reformed just procedure so that the ordinary delay of the law is no more. Litigants secure prompt attention with the entire court sitting as one body and justice is assured to all. His name appears on the non-partisan judicial ballot at the coming election, without party emblem. So remember the name, HUGH L. NICHOLS, and put an "X" mark before it on election day.

No invented story is as wonderful as the real story.

What has become of the old-fashioned candidate who made his race for office on the issue that a faded $12 suit of clothes was the best he could afford to wear?

The loafer's favorite spectacle is that of a workman engaged in performing some physical task.

A man can tell whether a woman is good or bad at a glance, but a good woman never learns to distinguish one class from another.

Of all the families in our town the Willoughbys seem to have gone farthest in a given space of time. Jerry Willoughby made the leap from overalls to silk pajamas in thirteen years.

It is not until after he is married that a man learns everything he does is wrong.

A man doesn't care much what sort of gown his wife wears so long as it is becoming and buttons in front.

Abel Whittall has had his face denuded of its whiskers and yesterday appeared clean-shaven for the first time in twenty-eight years. "I notice," said Eph Wiley as Mr. Whittall passed by on his way to the post-office, "that Abel finally has emerged from his ambush."

It is said that woolen dress goods are to cost the public more as a result of England's prohibition of the exportation of wool. Another "wear cotton" argument.—Chicago Herald.

FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

W. A. GREENLUND.

The record of Hon. W. A. Greenlund in the Eighteenth general assembly entitles him to the consideration of the voters of Ohio as a candidate for lieutenant governor. He was one of the five Democratic senators representing the Twenty-fifth district which is composed entirely of Cleveland county, and played a most important part in carrying out the policies to the people in the general assembly of 1914.

Spirit of the Press

America Safe.

With President Wilson at the head of this nation and Secretary Bryan at his right hand, there is little danger that we shall become involved in the great war. Things are bound to happen as hostilities proceed which will inflame the jingo spirit in this country, and those who mistake vice for patience and love of peace for cowardice will scream for revenge for some real fancied grievance. But the men who guide our national destinies have shown by their admirable conduct of our Mexican relations that they are not to be influenced by the unthinking and the excitable.—Ohio State Journal. (Rep.)

Twelve Weeks of War.

With October 17, the European war entered upon its twelfth week with the final result as much in doubt as when the Kaiser issued his declaration of war against Russia on August 1. Only one accomplishment stands out clearly—the ruin of Belgium, a peaceful and industrious country whose only offense was to stand up for the rights guaranteed to it by treaty. The civilized world outside of the zone of conflict will be disappointed if in the final settlement some one is not made to pay a tremendous indemnity for the grievous wrongs inflicted upon the Belgians. Money can never compensate for what they have lost, but a few billion dollars, say about $5,000,000,000, would afford some consolation.—Philadelphia Record.

American Trade.

American manufacturers, farmers, merchants, exporters and steamship men have before them a market that will tax their greatest energies. European stocks are running low just at the time when the United States is best prepared to supply the demand. Financial arrangements are being made now on a colossal scale to meet the cost of these supplies. Every country at war arranges its own finances to suit itself. This is a question that does not concern the American trader, so long as gold or its equivalent is forthcoming to pay him. And the orders already placed, on a cash basis, are proof that Europe is able to pay for what she buys.—Washington Post.

There was an earthquake in Slovenia the other day. But who cares, just now, about a little thing like an earthquake?—Cleveland Leader.

There are not many sure things in this world but here is one of them: A woman is always older than she thinks she looks.

DREAMS.

The dreams of youth are most entrancing, they take him where all nature smiles, and birds of paradise are glancing about, and woodland nymphs, and when he wakes, and lies recalling the visions of that fairy shore, the moonlight on its vistas falling, he tain would sleep and dream some more. The dreams of age are fierce and reckless, and wear away the old man's lives, in dreams red men my steps are tracking, with tomahawks and scalping knives, or I am tied upon a trestle, a locomotive drawing near; no matter how I strain and wrangle, I can't escape my doom, I fear. Or forty-seven bulls pursue me, I hear their thunder at my heels, they push their big long snouts through me—how comfortable all that feels! Or I am from an airship falling, and know that every bone will break, the things I feel are most appalling, and I'm still falling when I wake, I never sleep but that disaster comes to me in some tragic form; I'm swimming in a lake of plaster, or torn to fragments by a storm, and when I wake, I'm so exhausted, to walk I scarcely have the steam; then by some youth I am accosted, who tells me of his glowing dream!

It takes a man a long time to learn that he can do more for himself than anyone will do for him.

Ignorance is bliss when you can dodge the man who knows it all.

After a woman passes her one hundredth birthday she quits living about her age and begins to brag about it.

After a woman has picked a husband she starts in to pluck him.

A ten-year-old boy often wonders if grown people ever use any other words beside "Don't Do That."

For ten cents a woman can get enough cake to give her a headache after she eats it. But it takes a lot of dough to purchase a bun that will give a man a headache.

A pessimist is a man who stays home and hopes it will rain while other people are out enjoying themselves.

After all, maybe a bachelor is only a man who has refrained from making some woman unhappy.

We seldom practice what we preach. That's why a man who is wearing a "Safety First" button will take a corned blonde out to dinner when he knows his wife is in town.

FOR SECRETARY OF STATE

J. H. SECREST.

The position of first assistant to the secretary of state in Ohio is important and requires ability of high order. In the efficient and economical administration of the past four years Mr. Secrest served as first assistant until August, 1913, and had a share in putting into practice business principles which meant a saving of money to the state. He is a well-known educator and an able attorney.

Girl's Complexion
Newly Acquired
A skin of blended snow, cream and rose is the way an Ohio correspondent describes her newly acquired complexion. She is one who has adopted the method of using a cosmetic message, steaming and other methods. Many who have tried this marvelous way report that its effects are quite different from those of any other treatment. It produces a complexion of exquisite pinkish naturalness, rather than one bearing evidence of having been artificially "made over." One that is indeed "Nature's own." The result of gradually absorbing, deep particles of surface skin, permitting the younger, healthier skin beneath to show itself, and giving its pores a chance to breathe. Measured, wax, procurable at any drug store in original one ounce package, is put on at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

SAVE YOUR HAIR IF FALLING OUT OR DANDRUFF---25 CENT DANDERINE

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—anytime—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Feeling in Germany Bitter Against The English and Those Over 58 Years Are to Leave that Country

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Berlin, Via The Hague, Oct. 19. Via London, Oct. 20.—The American ambassador, James W. Gerard, has arranged for the release and departure of all Englishmen in Germany over the age of 55 including clergymen and physicians. They will leave for England via Holland.

Julius G. Lay, the American consul general in Berlin, has returned here from a visit of inspection to the officers' prison camp at Torgau, Saxony. He says that the officers, with soldiers at their servants, run their own mess, of which the Frenchmen, with traditional Gallic culinary skill, have taken charge. The officers play tennis and football but are not permitted to have liberty in the town. The general commanding explained this was because the anti-English was so high he feared that the British officers would be mobbed if they left the limits of the fortress.

The captured officers have few complaints, according to Mr. Lay, and are chiefly anxious in regard to their speedy return to their regiments. The consul was able from various officers of regiments to learn the fate of a number of officers carried on the British lists as missing. This one had been seen to fall; another had been buried while still another was known to have been taken to a hospital. Eleven reported among the dead were found unwounded among the prisoners at Torgau.

The German feeling toward the French is far different than toward the British. The consul witnessed an example in French prisoners who, crippled from rheumatism and over-exertion, was being repatriated via Switzerland. While he was being carried past the consul, under the escort of a soldier, an accompanying German officer stopped the soldier, ordered him to unfix his bayonet and said: "Remember he is not your prisoner and that you are his servants."

CURES PIMPLES EASILY.
Simple Remedy That Clears Skin Quickly of All Eruptions.
For several weeks past the Evans' Drug Store has done a big business in selling Hokara, the skin healer that has won so many friends in Newark. It has been found to heal not only all minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., but also the worst sores, ulcers, or even chronic eczema and salt rheum. There is yet to be found any form of wound or disease affecting the skin or mucous membranes that Hokara does not help, and its action is so quick that those who try it are simply delighted with it right from the start.

In spite of its unusual curative powers, the price is trifling. To convince every one of its merits, Evans' Drug Store will sell a liberal-sized jar for 25c. And remember that if you do not think it does what it claims, you can get your money back. You can certainly afford to try it on this plan.

GIRLS CHANGE LOYALTY UPON REACHING HOME

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

London, Oct. 19.—Thirty-two girls who had been living in England and who were taken recently from this country back to Germany by Miss Daisy Polk of San Francisco, were all in favor of Great Britain in their own country. Equally notable is the fact that twenty English girls who had been living in Germany for some time prior to the outbreak of hostilities, and who recently were brought back home, were all in favor of the enemy of their country until they reached home soil.

"The German girls showed a burst of their old time feeling soon after they set foot in the fatherland. They almost embraced the first German soldier they met after crossing the Dutch frontier and the English girls again became loyal to their own country when at Flushing they saw the pitiable plight of Belgian refugees and began to hear England's side of the war.

"They were, nevertheless, very loath to leave Germany and it required entreating letters from their parents to move them. Even then they left their German friends with much weeping. One girl wanted to marry a German officer to whom she was engaged, but she was informed by the embassy that marriages with enemies of England were not allowed.

This exchange of girls was brought about by the war relief society.

At the Hartman.
The old adage that—"Youth will be served"—has been exemplified in several of the plays in which Charles Frohman has presented Miss Billie Burke, but in none of them quite as strongly as in "Jerry," the American comedy of Catherine Chisholm Cushing in which Miss Burke will be seen at the Hartman Theatre, Columbus, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 27 and 28, with matinee Wednesday. The "Jerry" of the play is a young American girl who—like many of other young American girls—wants what she wants when she wants it, in this particular instance she wants in a certain man for a husband. The man has been engaged to her aunt for twenty years, but that doesn't make any difference to "Jerry." She wants him and she takes him by a strategy that is most amusing—as amusing as it is effective. On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 29, 30 and 31, with matinee on Saturday, the Hartman Theatre will offer that delightful comedy "The Dummy."

Buena Vista Street Paving Before City Council Again; Automobiles to be Regulated

Just when every one thought the Buena Vista street paving controversy which has been argued in the city council chamber for the past three years, was definitely settled, it bubbled up serenely Monday night and there is every indication that the fight over this proposed improvement will be opened and that it will wax warmer than ever.

Last night a motion was offered to reconsider council's action taken at the last meeting. This precipitated a debate in which practically every councilman including the president, and City Solicitor Norpell took part.

It was charged that the protest against the paving of the street really had a majority of four frontage on its communication to council while it was asserted at the last meeting that the petitioners were in the majority.

Councilman Rexroth succeeded in having adopted his motion to lay the previous motion on the table until next meeting night. In the meantime, the city engineer and the council clerk will prepare for council information showing how much foot frontage is represented on the petition and protest respectively. Should the protesters be in the majority, the former ordinance will be repealed, and the whole program started all over again.

The Buena Vista street paving and the two ordinances of Councilman Seward regulating the operation of automobiles constituted the high lights of the meeting. Mr. Seward offered an ordinance requiring all vehicles to come to a full stop when approaching a street car taking on or discharging passengers. This measure got its first reading. Mr. Seward's effort to pass it on suspension of rules failing, it was the opinion of four of the councilmen that it should be first determined whether the ordinance conflicted with the state law.

He was more successful with his measure requiring all motor vehicles to sound a warning signal upon approaching any street or alley intersection in the city. This measure was passed on suspension of rules. Several of the councilmen called attention to the fact that the din and noise resulting from its enforcement would probably become a nuisance.

The ordinance accepting the Baugher & McGruder addition in West Newark was accepted after the promoters filed a bond and agreeing to make improvements demanded by council before the plat was accepted. The Baldwin addition in East Newark went over to another meeting. Mr. Baldwin offering a revised plat, changing the frontage of the lots so that an alley could be provided for across the rear of all the properties. It was after 8 o'clock again before council got down to business, the half hour as usual being devoted to conference or caucus in the clerk's private office. Councilman Knauber was the only member who did not respond to roll call.

The reading of the journal revealed the fact that a secret meeting of council was held last Friday night when the city solicitor advised the City Dads that he proposed filing an injunction suit against the gas company and asked authority to employ special assistant council, which was granted. Messrs. Edward Kibler, sr. and F. A. Bolton were employed and will be associated with Solicitor Norpell in the litigation between the city and the gas company.

The street committee recommended the opening of an alley in the vicinity of Riley street, another alley controversy was sent to the law committee and the committee recommended that the legislation be passed for the Western avenue sewer.

Service Director Christian reported that the installation of new boilers at the light plant would cost $3,000 to $5,000, neither style of boiler providing for any increase in the number of street lights. The report was referred to the service committee.

The safety director reported the sale of the old East Newark hose wagon to William Zentmeyer for $75. Eleventh street property owners petitioned council to grade an alley between Hoover and Selby street. The petition was referred to Service Director Christian.

Western avenue residents protested against the construction of a sewer in that street. Ballard avenue residents asked for new sidewalks and some street grading. The matter was referred to the street committee.

The Teamsters' union notified council that after January 1, 1915, the teamsters of the city would charge $5 per day for teams.

Messrs. Baugher & McGruder submitted bond in the sum of $1,000 binding them to make improvements in their addition in West Newark during 1915, as required by council before the addition is accepted, so council could pass the ordinance which was up for third reading. The bond was accepted.

An ordinance by Mr. Rexroth to levy special assessment ordinance for the construction of a sewer in Seventh street was passed on suspension of rules.

An ordinance by Mr. Seward regulating all vehicles in the city, requiring them to stop when approaching street cars while cars are taking on or discharging passengers, was given its first reading. A motion to suspend rules to pass the measure was lost by a vote of 1 to 5. It was later referred to the law committee.

An ordinance by Mr. Seward regulating the operation of motor vehicles, requiring them to sound signals at every street and alley intersection was introduced. Mr. Seward's motion to suspend rules and pass the measure on three readings brought the statement from Mr. Rexroth that the enforcement of the ordinance would make it necessary for all citizens to wear cotton in their ears. The motion was carried, and the measure passed after its third reading.

An ordinance to levy special assessment for the paving of Union street was passed on suspension of rules.

An ordinance on third reading by Mr. Ashbrook to pave the First street railroad crossing was passed.

A resolution by Mr. Payne authorizing the service director to raze the old brick building at the gas plant near the B. and O. station, and to use the brick for the construction of catch basin, was adopted on suspension of rules.

A resolution by Mr. Rexroth instructing the city solicitor to secure the vacation of an alley in West Newark, was adopted.

A revised plat of the A. J. Baldwin addition making the lots face on Curtis avenue instead of Eastern avenue, was submitted to council informally for the approval of the members.

The Buena Vista street paving measure was brought up again. Mr. Seward said that revised figures on the petition and protest showed that those protesting had a majority of 145 1-2 feet frontage. A motion to reconsider the legislation passed two weeks ago was offered but before it was voted upon, Mr. Rexroth moved to lay the motion on the table until next meeting night. His motion carried.

Upon referring back to ordinances the measure to accept the Baugher & McGruder addition was passed.

A belated report from the law committee recommended the payment of the rent for the Metz room formerly occupied by the service department.

A special committee appointed to investigate the assessment against the Montgomery lots in Cedar street which were thought excessive, reported that Mr. Montgomery offered to pay an assessment on a valuation of $200 each for the six lots. The committee recommended the acceptance of the proposition. The report was received and filed.

HARMON

Those are the sweetest words in our tongue to a public officer, especially when he has had difficult duties and done them in the face of all sorts of obstacles, criticism and sometimes ridicule and abuse. It warmed my heart when, in my second campaign four years ago, the party took for its motto "Harmon has made good," and the voters emphatically indorsed it.

"The party now flies the motto, 'Wilson has made good,' and if everybody votes as his heart prompts the people of the land will say so, too, and their voice will be heard around the world. For all cars everywhere are awaiting that voice to learn whether it will say well done or ill done to the President who stands for us as the calm figure of peace among the warring nations."

"If the Administration had done nothing more than reduce and reform the tariff and break up the nests of special privilege which long infested the capital, that would go up and go on high."

"Opinions may differ about some details of these reforms, but experience will soon decide whether and what changes should be made. The people know that both were conceived and fashioned to the common interest of the entire country, and that both are right in principle. They are too just and wise to condemn without a fair trial what the clouds obscure the sun for us as well as for the world."

"But the shadowy clouds throw on us a light and not red. And who, by the grace of God, has kept them out? Who are we to trust still to keep them out? At the end, at the night of our life, our flag across the cannon's muzzles and cause those clouds to vanish."

Surely the president would deserve the approval of every citizen next month if he had done nothing more than guide the nation along the path of peace while our blazes along our Southern border and casts his glare across both oceans.

"And it was no easy task that any man might have done. It took rare fortitude and steadiness to avoid embroilment with Japan. It took both, and great patience besides, to save our

SICK CHILDREN LOVE CASCARETS FOR THE BOWELS

Get a 10-cent box now.
Most of the ills of childhood are caused by a sour, disordered stomach, sluggish liver and constipated bowels. They catch cold easily, become cross, listless, irritable, feverish, restless, tongue coated, don't eat or sleep well and need a gentle cleansing of the bowels—but don't try to force a nasuteating dose of oil into the little one's already sick stomach—it is cruel, needless and old-fashioned.

Any child will gladly take Cascarets Candy Cathartic which act gently—never gripe or produce the slightest uneasiness—though cleanse the little one's system, sweeten the stomach and put the liver and bowels in a pure, healthy condition.

Full directions for children and grown-ups in each package.
Mothers can rest easy after giving this gentle, thorough laxative which costs only 10 cents a box at any drug store.

homes from mourning for sons in Mexico. It would have been still, and will be heretofore, easy to become involved in the horrible war that is raging all around us. So thanks go up day and night that we have such a President, with prayers that his life and strength may be spared.

"Shall he now be humiliated and discredited? Or shall the lines of weariness in his face be smoothed and his soul comforted when the election returns come in?"

"Let us send able, good, honest, brave Hogan to help the President in the Senate and return Allen and Dowd to go on helping him in the House with their comrades from other districts."

"I know the men who want their places, Harding and Longworth and the rest of them, of both brands of the opposition, announce themselves as real patriots all, and no doubt they are. They declare they would not lay a straw in the President's path when the peace and honor of the nation are concerned, and I believe they are sincere. But did they not join the chorus of derision at watchful waiting in Mexico? Are we sure that through their partisan lenses they could tell the right path from the wrong one so as to throw no straw in it? If any one of you were President, with such a difficult and delicate task on your hands, would you like to have your hands changed and be made to work with a new and untried set? Is it not plainly wise to take no chances, but give the President a Senate and House he can be sure of from the start, so that the work so well begun may be well finished?"

"As to the state election, we are still prosecuting the grafters who disgraced the Republican livery and are still making them disgorge their loot. Are the people going to turn out the party which has done and is doing this and brought about many other reforms? No, it is too soon to change the party or forget. Not yet have fruits meet for repentance been brought forth. Let us see an entirely new generation of Republican leaders first. Many, if not most, of the present ones were willing for personal or partisan ends to deny, excuse and obstruct lest official graft and wrongdoing be uncovered and redressed.

"Our party won its victories two years ago through a division of its opponents. Even the President, great as his electoral majority was, had less than half the popular vote. Now is the time to tell him he is a minority President no longer.

"In every one of the countries which are now warring against each other men of all factions and parties have thrown aside their differences and come solidly behind their national leaders. Shall the men and women of America be less patriotic? Do they think it more desirable to have battles won than it is to have peace maintained in an atmosphere of war?"

"We once had in this country what is known as the era of good feeling, when the people, almost to a man, chose a president and stood by him. Let us give that era a mate in this year of our Lord 1914, and beside the name of James Monroe in our history write that of Woodrow Wilson."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years, was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore Catarrh can be cured by a constitutional treatment. Dr. J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.
